Data Notes:

- You cannot compare living data reports to other data reports. Living data now reflects county of residence instead of county of diagnosis. You cannot compare this year's data with last year's since they are run separately.
- Current HIV infection data by year of report reflects all cases meeting the CDC definition of 'HIV Infection' which includes all newly reported HIV cases and newly reported AIDS cases with no previous report of HIV in Florida. If a case is later identified as being previously diagnosed and reported from another state, the case will no longer be reflected as a Florida case and the data will be adjusted accordingly. Data from the most recent calendar year (2015) are considered provisional and therefore should not be used to confirm or rule out an increase in newly reported cases in Florida. The final year-end numbers are generated in July of the following year, after duplicate cases are removed from the dataset, as is customary of HIV surveillance in the US.
- You cannot add HIV and AIDS cases to come up with a total number infected.
- With greater than 50% of the AIDS cases deceased, more relevant data related to program planning are found within the "Living Data" tables.
